P A R I S

Hôtel du Petit Moulin is privately owned by the Chevalier Family – who also own Pavillon de la Reine and Pavillon des Lettres.

The hotel is set in the heart of the Marais, the oldest quartier in Paris. The area is lively and trendy, and full of wonderful boutiques, galleries, fascinating museums, atmospheric cafes and restaurants.

The 17th century building was originally home to Paris' first bakery where Victor Hugo would come to buy his baguette - the 1900 shop frontage is listed as part of French heritage by Historic Monuments.

Christian Lacroix transformed the building into a true couture hotel – modern and bold, yet harmonious and stylish with 17 individually designed rooms. No two rooms are the same: some are bright and daring, others antiquated and more rustic – all are theatrical and playful, and recognisably the work of Lacroix.
